Bottles & Mugs

My fellow Glenbardians. I feel some clarification is needed in regards to our latest promotional products. The bottles & mugs are multi-purpose. Let's start with the "water" bottles. There are many, many liquids we could put into our bottles. Lemonade, orange juice, soda, your favorite & tonic. With the top screwed off, there is even room for a lime wedge. The list of liquids goes on and on. In the future, I would like to refer to them as "beverage" bottles. The liquid possibilities are endless.

As for the mugs. I personally know someone that started his day having a cup of Tea from his GABOC mug. To refer to them as "coffee" mugs might be misleading. Also, I have a mug on the desk, in my home office, that has extra pens & pencils in it. So "beverage" mugs won't work for them. I feel that we should just go with "Mugs". Plain & simple.

So to recap. "Beverage Bottles" & "Mugs" are available to start your day and help you stay hydrated all day long. $10.00 for the Beverage Bottles, $5.00 for the Mugs. They are available on Mondays & Tuesdays at class. I will also have them at our membership meetings.

Thanks for listening

HAPPY
Fall Y'all

We have a new addition to our family. A 5-2/3 year old black girl Dobe, Raven. The beginning of this year Raven's foster brought her over to meet us, thinking I might be interested in her because she was trained. Bill really liked her but the idea of two dogs when there was still snow on the ground was not lighting my fire. I felt Raven was Novice level trained.

Raven was great in her foster home and good with the little dog. Her foster didn't have a fenced yard and on walks Raven was not good seeing other dogs. As the weather got better Raven's high prey drive kicked in and she pulled her foster down a couple times. Raven was passed on to another foster with a fenced yard.

Raven was good in their home and with their Doberman. But when the husband walked Raven she got pretty riled up when seeing other dogs and prey. They brought Raven over as I had helped the wife with another Dobe she had fostered, who had even come to Glenbard.

Raven was a handful. Since Bill had seen her twice he really wanted her and our Jake seemed to like her. A couple weeks later we took her to foster.

We had our work cut out for us. I started Raven at Glenbard when only one dog was there. She had a bit of a melt-down but we had to start somewhere. I asked Joan to work with her. Seeing Raven, Joan closed the curtain to eliminate some distractions. Joan was impressed with how much Raven knew. She also said Bill needed to work with her to take the edge off so I could handle her. She said this dog is a keeper.

I took Raven around to several dog clubs. I got lucky because each time only a couple dogs were present and they were always calm so Raven was getting better.

Bill and I had a serious talk about adopting Raven. He promised to take her to class and said he wanted to show her and do stuff with her. I dated Raven's contract For Father's day and left it on Bill's desk.

After having Raven for 6 weeks she got her AKC temperament test title (ATT) at CarDunAI. I had taken her there twice to get her used to the place. On one test she got perfect scores and on the other she got one 3 and the rest 4's.

Into week 7 she got her CGC and her Novice Trick Dog (TKN) at my other club, Wildwood.

At the end of week 7 we headed up to West Bend Wisconsin for the Doberman Temperament test. It is much harder and usually has a pass rate of about 1/3 of the dogs. We were Doberman 12. Raven did not pass as she would not stay out and bark at the agitator. She went out when he aggressed on her, but she came right back to Bill and would not go back out in the 10 seconds they have to respond.

She was very distracted due to the 11 Dobs before her on the field. But she did all the other stations in a passing fashion. I saw 17 Dobs listed, and I was told that only 1 Dobe passed. Raven was one of the few that at least went out at the agitator. Most of the Dobs stayed by their handler's side.

We had entered Raven at Stone City in Beginner Novice. She blew her recall. However there were 9 dogs in the building, all very quiet and calm. It was the most she had been exposed to and she didn't bark at any of them.

Bill kept his promise and has been taking Raven to Ed's and Mary's Novice class. He really enjoys working with them. They both complimented Bill on how good he and Raven are doing and how much he loves that dog.

Raven is getting comfortable with her Glenbard Novice class. I feel she is, along with Bill is enjoying the training. We are still working on her dog issues, but she has come a long way in almost 4 months.

Glenbard membership meeting August 7, 2024 at Denny's

Meeting called to order: 7:18 PM

Members in attendance: Mary Schuenemann, Gina Hoener, Sandi Stephenson, Pat Senne, Candy Ellis, Pattie Imburgia, Ed Gegenheimer, Karen Schlipf, Mary Ramsden, Isabel Lopez, Mary Therese Marosits and Carole Moen.

Also Barb Misch on Gina's cell phone.

President's report: Joan was on the road and unable to attend.

Vice president's Report: Karen had no report. There were no membership applications.

Secretary's report: The June 5th minutes were approved as sent via constant contact.

Treasurer's report: Pat passed out a brief one page report from Shawn. The 3rd quarter rent was paid. Shawn received a letter from Roger saying he was working on our 501c3. It will take at least 6 months. The treasurer's report was filed for audit.

DOT report: Pattie talked about the previous Monday night being the first night back from our month off and the start of new classes. There were so few people in Puppy and Beginner 2 she wanted to combine them. Pat our registrar felt some of the people might not want to stay if that happened. There was much discussion on the subject of how to handle classes that only have a few people and should they be combined with another class. The end result was the two extra Beginner 2 dogs when to the second Novice class. Pat thanked Ed and Mary for accommodating two more students. Mary R suggested she and or Pattie talk to the new people signing up for Puppy or the Beginner classes. Carole said she has always taken her adult rescue Dobs into a Novice class because the dogs are so much calmer which is good for a new dog, especially ones with little training. Ed wanted to revise the class sign-up sheet.

Fun match: Gina stated that we made $124 on our August match. She said only 3 people had prepaid. Gina would like the match volunteers to have name tags. She would be willing to do them. Gina felt she needed more volunteers to draw from and would like to put the need for match helpers on Face book. That was a good idea. A reminder a match volunteer gets two free runs.

Pat said Fox Valley has an online volunteer sign-up sheet for their matches. You pull up the calendar and pick the date you want to volunteer and the needed positions come up. Their website has HTML so they can offer this. Our website does not have that, but we could build on it.

Nominating committee: Ed, (will be the chair), Mary S, and Gina volunteered. We can have 5 people. We will need the slate for the October meeting. Nominations from the floor will be taken at that time.

Trial: reminder at Northwest. Our Rally judges are Saturday Sandra Gould and Sunday Joni Monnich. Our Obedience judges are Saturday and Sunday Chuck Kline and Cynthia Pischke. We will have two Obedience rings and one Rally ring.

There was some discussion about prizes and using the mugs and water bottles. Would we give them out for only first place or first through fourth or for all qualifiers. Carole felt all qualifiers are too much. Ed wanted to make sure we have enough once we make a decision. We might give them out to all the Beginner Novice A and Novice A people instead of a gift bag. Sandi suggested giving them to Open A and Utility A people also. Carole suggested we table the decision on what to give out and to whom until we have numbers as to how many for each suggested class. We can use the numbers from last year's trial. Carole also asked if we were moving ahead with the website updates. Pat said she was able to introduce Annie to Laura S at the 4H event. The question was asked when 4H was starting.

We also voted (unanimously) for $17 fee, per class, for a structured class if someone wanted to drop-in for the remaining classes. The $130 fee for 8 weeks is $16.25 per class.

Meeting adjourned: 8:37 PM

Glenbard membership meeting June 5, 2024 at Denny's

Meeting called to order: 7:10 PM

Members in attendance: Mary Schuenemann, Pattie Imburgia, Sandi Stephenson, Joan Mazat, Gina Hoener, Candy Ellis, Mary Ramsden, Karen Schlipf, Annie Kane, Ed Gegenheimer and Carole Moen. Shawn Hacker and John Henry arrived later.

Guest: Avery Ramsden, Mary's granddaughter.

President's Report: Joan said things were going great. She thanked the volunteers. She mentioned the 4H show on Wednesday June 12th still needed help. It starts at 6 PM. Contact Laura Setar if you can assist. Joan received a thank-you from the Raise the Woof Gala for our donation.

Vice President's Report: Karen presented new applicant Jim Kohlmann. He owns Transpet Services. Karen had used his services and was very pleased with him. The vote was unanimous to approve Jim's membership.

Secretary's report: The minutes were approved as published in Barks with one correction. Carole said she forgot to add Isabel Lopez to the members present. She came later and didn't sign in.

Carole also mentioned the email she got about the child abuse course that AKC is requiring several positions involved with dog clubs to take. Joan elaborated on it and said she had taken it regarding one of John Henry activities.

Treasurer's Report: Shawn said it was a bit low due to a payment made to Roger for previous tax work.

Fun Match: Gina passed out a nice printout that she made of the number of match attendees that we had for the past 4 months. She separated the volunteers from those that paid. She said she was not able to account for all the volunteers.

Gina also asked what to do if someone pays and doesn't show up. It was decided if that person contacts Gina and asks if the match can be extended to the next one, we will honor it.

Old Business: Last night of structured classes are Monday July 1st which is also our picnic. We need to make sure the Puppy and Beginner people know, and anyone else that trains with us that are not members. We will also have drop in training on July 2nd which is the final CGC for the 2nd quarter.

What to do if Sheila can't teach her conformation class. Ed volunteered to stand in for her. Will talk to Sheila about it.

New Business:

Annie suggested adding Zelle for drop-in people to pay. Shawn said we would need to use the debit card account. We do take cash or check. It has to be the exact amount.

Sandi asked about $10 drop in fee. What happens if someone drops-into a structured 8 week class? What would the fee be? First the person would have to speak to the registrar and the instructor to see if there was room for them to attend. Let Pattie know if they do so. There was some discussion on this. Should the remaining weeks be prorated? 8 weeks for $130 would be $16.25 a class. $17 was considered. This was tabled until Pat, our registrar could be present.

Our website needs to be updated Annie and Avery offered to help with it. They would need to coordinate with Laura S about how she would like to proceed.

Ed brought up purchasing mugs and water bottles. He had some pictures. He suggested 72 of each. They come in cases of 36. We could give them out at our trials, maybe for first in every class. We could also sell them. The water bottles would be $10 and the mugs for $5. The total cost for both mugs and water bottles would be $1,023.17. There is a minimum order. Shawn pointed out that we can sell them looking at a possible non-profit status in the future. We could however state a reimbursement cost. The vote was unanimous for the purchase.

Annie and Shawn mentioned that getting dogs out of shelters and training them is a public service. This was in regards to our trying for non-profit status.

DOT: Pattie asked if we could have a membership meeting agenda which might encourage more people to attend the meetings. It was stated that Pat many times does send an agenda.

It was brought up that the mats should be cleaned. There was some discussion if this should qualify towards an award requirement.

Meeting adjourned 8:40 PM
